

12kW | Henley Thor – Outdoor Unit

About:

The Thor D12 stove is a premium outdoor wood stove that combines elegant aesthetics with sophisticated design features. Its cube shape is sleek and modern, and it is further enhanced by the distinctive modular design featuring 4 glass panels that provide a stunning view of the fire. To achieve the desired level of rust on your stove, we recommend leaving it exposed to the elements for a few days. During this period, avoid placing it on a concrete / granite surface, as the rust may run off. This will ensure the stove achieves the desired rusted look.
